UNFURL THE OLD FLAG.

It is apparent that the republican party in the north is everywhere awakening to the necessity of unfurling the flag, under which it has won so many victories on the Congressional and Presidential field, and following it to fresh conquests. The major principles of the party are unchanged. EQUAL RIGHTS TO ALL MEN BEFORE THE LAW; THE GUARANTIES OF THE CONSTITUTION, WITH ALL ITS AMENDMENTS INViolATE; THE CAUSE OF EDUCATION; AID AND FOSTER INCENTIVES FOR THE INDUSTRIES OF THE COUNTRY; PROTECTION AND EXPANSION OF AMERICAN COMMERCE ON THE OCEAN; the purity of the elective franchise are all the same to-day as in the past decade, and have the same claims upon republican loyalty and devotion now as then. The men of the republican party may have changed, but its principles are as unchanging as the natural laws of creation, until by a mutation of circumstances they may become temporarily effete. This may cause, but republican principles are immutable. They are steadfast as the foundation of the government to which they relate.

We think the time has come to put the republican party on its feet, preparatory to the fall campaign. When the roll is beat let every man fall into line. Let those who love the cause manifest their devotion, each for himself. If there be those who hesitate make room for them in the line. If the President is a true republican we will be found among the republican forces. No word should be uttered to entreat him to duty or to repel him therefrom. The laws of political gravitation will control his action and that of his Cabinet and his army of officials throughout the country. When this force begins to move, if they belong in its ranks, they will take up step to the republican music and move on in harmony. If they belong elsewhere they will soon seek their political affinities and their favorite camping ground, and by that sign we shall know them.

We copy the above from that excellent paper, the National Republican, for the purpose of showing those of our members who have become weak kneed the feeling at the north, and as a strengthening plaster to their weak backs. The republican party will most surely carry the next election, and those who doubt it have but a short time to wait to see our prediction verified.

PERSONAL DIFFICULTY.—On Saturday last, Judge Fowle and Judge Tourgee met at the N. C. Depot in this city, and the latter was asked if he was the author of the "C" letters. To the inquiry Judge Tourgee replied that Judge Fowle had no right to ask him any such question and that he declined to answer it. Whereupon Judge Fowle struck Judge Tourgee with a small stick. Several blows were then exchanged without inflicting much damage and the parties were separated. Judge Tourgee was on his way to court in Greensboro district, and left on the train immediately after the fight. The attack was made by Judge Fowle upon the well settled belief that Judge Tourgee is the author of the "C" letters.—Raleigh Register.

When the news of the above mentioned difficulty was received here, one of our ablest lawyers remarked, "I suppose that Judge Fowle has commenced his campaign for the Supreme Court Judgeship with a cane, but he will find it a very hard campaign if he undertakes to cane every lawyer who will not vote for him."

Judge Fowle's name will be handed down to posterity in disgrace for attacking a man who was physically disabled while fighting the battles of his country. He has incurred the same disgrace that he would, had he in a like manner brutally caned a woman. Shame on him, will be the verdict of every decent person in North Carolina. We will publish the letter signed "C" in our next. It is a good letter and our readers shall have it.

RAILROAD ITEMS.

The Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, it is reported, will be sold by the bondholders in a few months.

The Wilmington & Weldon Railroad will be turned over to the stockholders, it is rumored, in a short time by the lessees.

The O. C. Railway is still in the hands of Receivers, and is likely to remain so for some time.

The Wilmington and Sea Side Railroad is still carrying all the passengers it can get for 5 cents each.

Yellow, of all shades, is very much in vogue with blondes and brunettes, while with yellow, is accepted, instead of black.

CITY ITEMS.

Mayor Fishblade is having a remarkably easy time in court matters.

Wilmington was visited by a splendid rain on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Superior Court of Bladen county, His Honor, Judge Eure presiding, is in session this week.

Mr M. M. Katz has returned from the north with a splendid stock of spring and summer goods.

There is a paper in this city which feels complimented by having the "privilege" of publishing stale items.

Gen. Allan Rutherford left for Washington on Wednesday. He seemed to enjoy his visit to his friends and home, in this city, very much.

Thanks to Hon. C. H. Brogden, member of Congress, for a copy of his speech, delivered in the House of Representatives on Feb. 27th, last.

An excursion party went down the river yesterday. The weather being fine they evidently had a pleasant time, until the thunder storm came on late in the afternoon.

Persons should always be particular during excursion seasons, and not use second class steamboats for pleasure purposes. They might succeed in getting a free ticket upward without the use of a balloon.

The new Deputy Collector, with the approval of the Collector, intends to enforce the law concerning the entrance and clearance of vessels more strictly than it has been heretofore. So it will be beneficial, financially, to shipowners to comply with the same.

CHICKEN THIEF ARRESTED.—Jno. Brice went to the lot of one Jno. Williams on Tuesday night and stole a lot of chickens. Williams heard him and gave chase, and Brice was arrested and taken before Justice Hill and bound over to answer to the charge of larceny.

The Postal Commission is expected to return from their visit to Cuba in a few days. We hope they will be induced to make a short stay in our city, and if so, our citizens should take them down the river to see the river and harbor improvements, Fort Fisher and other places of interest.

Persons from the north contemplating visiting Jacksonville, Florida, should be certain to "stop over" in our city, for rest and recreation. Messrs. Cobb Brothers keep a first class hotel, and we can guarantee that visitors will be well pleased with their accommodations.

DEMOCRATIC EXCITEMENT.—The Democratic party is very much excited over who are to be their candidates this summer. Well, the Republicans at intend to let them have a free fight, so go in gentlemen, and make it lively, it is a family fight, and so far as the republicans are concerned, we don't care which wins.

SOMETHING WRONG.—Mrs. Moore, who died very suddenly on Tuesday morning last, we understand that, after her death she swelled as large as two persons ought to have been, and when buried she had turned perfectly black in the face, and some of our citizens express the opinion that there was something wrong. There should have been an inquest held over her body by the Coroner.

The Raleigh Register is certainly interesting this week, and shows considerable enterprise in the matter of news concerning the Supreme court campaign. Go in Harris, you deserve the thanks of all the good people of the state for keeping up with all the doings and sayings of the aspirants for office. It is becoming very disgraceful indeed. The waters will be stirred up before the campaign is over by the candidates grabbing for mud to throw at each other.

JNO. N. VAN SOULEN, U. S. DEPUTY MARSHAL.—Our half grown city papers are very much concerned about the resignation of J. N. VanSolen, U. S. Deputy Marshal. They try to be enterprising by publishing rumors instead of giving facts. They have published about forty times, or whenever they need something to fill a vacant space in their papers, that J. N. VanSolen has resigned as Deputy U. S. Marshal. The facts are, Mr. VanSolen has not resigned, nor does he intend to do so; and we are pleased to say that there is no one who stands higher with his superiors than Deputy Marshal VanSolen does. We have seen several letters from Marshal Hill, congratulating Mr. VanSolen on his faithfulness and success as an officer.

THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE.—At the annual meeting of the Produce Exchange, held on Tuesday last, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President—C. H. Robinson.
Vice President—R. E. Calder.
Board of Managers—Geo. W. Williams, D. G. Worth, James Sprunt, E. Lilly and John T. Rankin.

Inspectors of Election—J. R. Chasten, S. R. Birdsey and Oscar Pearsall.

We understand that the Postmaster-General has appointed Mr. Thomas H. Stovall, of this city, a route agent on the Carolina Central railroad, to run between Wilmington and Charlotte. Young Stovall has been absent in Baltimore for the past twelve months. The vacancy on the Road was caused by Mr. Porter, one of the route agents, being transferred to some Road in Alabama. The new agent will commence running at once.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—The following comprise a list of the Grand Jury to serve at the approaching term of the U. S. District Court, which meets in this city on the 20th inst.

New Hanover—B. F. Hall, M. P. Taylor, John E. Lippitt, A. Weill, T. H. McKoy, J. I. Metts, D. R. Murchison, Jesse Wilder, W. A. Martin, R. S. Radcliffe, J. W. Atkinson, J. G. Burr, Donald MacLac.

Brunswick—Thomas G. Drew, F. M. Wescott, Francis M. Moore, John M. Bennett, William Dasher, Thomas W. Gilbert.

Dupli—James G. Kinn, A. G. Mosely, W. H. Sloan, J. C. McMillan, A. D. McGowan, George Middleton.

We understand that the above list of jurors was made up by Mr. William Larkins, Clerk of the U. S. District Court, in this city, and we respectfully call the attention of His Honor, Judge Brooks, to the fact that there is not a single Republican on the jury. If the names had been drawn it would be different, but they are arbitrarily selected by the Clerk. His political prejudice is exhibited so plainly that we hope the Judge will take some notice of the matter for the sake of fair dealing.

GOOD SAMARITAN CELEBRATION.—Star of Liberty Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Samaritans and Daughters of Samaria, of this city, celebrated its anniversary on Tuesday last, Queen Esther Lodge, of Wilmington, and Queen Grandee and Excelsior Lodges, of Charlotte, which arrived here on Monday evening, participating in the ceremonies of the occasion. The different Lodges formed a procession in front of the hall on Front street in the afternoon and marched up Front to Red Cross and up Red Cross to St. Stephen's Church, where the ceremonies were inaugurated by an address from the R. W. Grand Sire of the National Grand Lodge, which is said to have been quite an able and interesting one, who was followed by the Grand Deputy of the state, Henry Ellis. At the close of the ceremonies at the church, the procession was reformed, and headed by a band of music, which accompanied them to the church, marched down Red Cross to Fourth street, down Fourth to Castle, down Castle to Front and up Front street to the Lodge room.

The visiting Lodges returned home on Wednesday morning.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The Board met on Wednesday last in adjourned regular session; present, Mr. Wagner, Chairman, and Commissioners Sanders, Worth, Atkinson and Holmes.

Application of sundry citizens praying the Commissioners to build a small house of worship for the use of the paupers at the County Poor House, was ordered laid on the table for the present.

Petition of E. G. Styron, to be allowed to transfer his privilege license to a party to whom he has sold his business, was not granted.

Canada Blue, a man who had lost an arm, applied for transportation to his home in Louisiana, and he was ordered granted transportation as far as Florence, S. C.

Sheriff Manning reported $2,025 79 poll tax collected on last year's list, and of this the amount of $449 95 was appropriated by the Board to the general school fund of the county.

The contract for the burial of the pauper dead was awarded to Duncan Holmes, he being the lowest bidder, at $1 95 each.

C. B. Thomas was appointed Overseer of Public Roads in Cape Fear township, vice Thomas Williams, "in the interest of peace."

The Board then took a recess until 6 o'clock p. m.

The Board reassembled at the appointed hour, but the business transacted was not of a character to be made public.

We call attention to the bankrupt notice, meeting of creditors on 28th of April.

See W. P. Canaday's ad of houses for sale, in any part of the city. Give him a call.

Went the Mayor and Aldermen please have something done for Market street? It looks as though there might be some little improvement made on it.

Mayor Fishblade has gone to Bladen to attend Court, Alderman Vollers acts as Mayor pro tem, during the absence of Mayor Fishblade.

Splendid vacant lots, suitable for dwellings or stores, for sale by W. P. Canaday, on long time—just such time as will suit a poor man who wants a home for his wife and little ones. Remember that every man should provide a home for his old age.

WILMINGTON COTTON MILLS.—The fourth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wilmington Cotton Mills was held on Tuesday morning last, at the Bank of New Hanover. Mr. B. G. Worth was called to the Chair and Mr. R. E. Calder requested to act as Secretary. The Treasurer of the Company and the Secretary of the meeting were requested to verify proxies, and reported a total of 1,171, which being a majority of the 1,253 shares, the meeting proceeded to business. The President read his report for the past year and explained the financial condition of the corporation; after which a resolution was offered providing for the appointment of a trustee with full power to advertise and sell the property, stock and franchise of the corporation and with the proceeds to pay its debts.

After discussion a stock vote was called for, and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

An election of officers was then held, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen:

President—Donald MacLac.
Vice President—Wm. A. French.
Directors—Edward Kidder, James H. Chadbourne, F. W. Eerchner, Norwood Giles, John W. Atkinson.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

R. E. CALDER Secretary.

"The Atlantic" is the name of a very handsome weekly paper just started at Beaufort, N. C., by Capt. James H. Ford. This gentleman is a practical printer, a good scholar and with all a splendid newspaper man. We hope the good people of Beaufort will give him the needed assistance in order to make the enterprise a success. They have long needed a first class paper, in fact the place has suffered for the want of one. Beaufort is one of the very best and prettiest, as well as the healthiest summer resorts in the south, and nothing has kept it in the background but the Rip Van Winkle style of its inhabitants. If they will now wake up (they have been asleep twice as long as old Rip was) they can, in a few years, make Beaufort to the south what Long Branch and Newport are to the north, and the first step in that direction is to give substantial aid to the local paper; give such assistance to it that its editor can make the paper not only interesting to the citizens of Beaufort, but to strangers. Every dollar spent on the paper by the citizens of Beaufort will bring $25 to them in return. We believe they will render the necessary aid to Brother Ford to make his enterprise a success, and his pride, as well as his great love for Beaufort, will cause him to put forth extraordinary efforts to make the "Atlantic" a first class newspaper. He has our very best wishes.

Very wide linen collars and deep cuffs are richly embroidered and trimmed with frills of fine Torchon lace.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

W. P. CANADAY.
Editor and Proprietor.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,
FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 12, 1878.

Nearly everybody, except ourselves, have had their say about the late speech of Senator Howe of Wisconsin. Some people have tried to be smart and witty at the Senator's expense, and others damned with faint praise. The Democrats pooh-poohed at it as dealing with dead issues. Ben. Butler said it was an old case well put. We say that it was a rare specimen of oratorical wit, satire, invective, incontrovertible argument and eloquence. Bold as it was in dealing with facts, it was kind and courteous towards the President even in its denunciation of his southern policy. There was a vein of playful sarcasm all through it, and no moroseness. To those weak brethren in the north who forget that the last sixteen years have been terribly serious, it was not palatable. To those who read correctly the portentous omens of these times it was the spear of Ithuriel pricking the toad.

The Raleigh correspondent of the New York Times gives the following item of news:

For two weeks past there has been great excitement over two political articles published in the Greensboro North State and signed "C." Judge Schenck, Kerr, Smith and ex-Judge D. G. Fowle were severely attacked and unmercifully ridiculed in these letters, and the public curiosity greatly excited as to the authorship. Judge Fowle was exceedingly incensed at the attack on him, and believing that ex-Judge A. W. Tourgee wrote them, asked Tourgee, at the North Carolina Depot today, whether he was the author. Tourgee declined to answer, whereupon a personal encounter took place. After a few blows the parties were separated, with little or no damage done to either combatants. The letters in question have been largely circulated by the adherents of Vance, Smith and Jarvis, and are intensely enjoyed from their standpoint, in connection with the fight for Chief Justice and Senator.

One of the ablest lawyers in this city declined a Supreme Court Judgeship. We hope the Raleigh brethren won't skin each other's noses about so small a matter as a $2,500 judgeship.

THE TEMPER OF THE SOUTHERN REPUBLICANS.

By the "Southern Republicans" we mean for the purposes of this article, the native southern republicans, not the northern men settled in the south since the war. It has become common among the Republicans of the north to think of and speak of this class of men as being weak in the faith. An impression has obtained in the north that the south being so thoroughly tintured with the state rights and secession theories the native Republicans of that region have become infected with those political heresies. This opinion is by no means confined to such shallow theorists as Stanley Matthews and Everts but is nearly the party. The southern native Republicans suffer a constant and unrelenting injustice in this matter, and have a right to a vindication, — we had almost said, exculpation.

Theal northern republican is, indeed, in some sense an exotic in his section. Surrounded all his life by a preponderance of political doctrines to which he did not assent, his ears saluted at every turn with the ultra Calhoun theories, nearly always in an insignificant minority among the ruling whites in the community in which he lived, he was constantly breathing the prevailing current of public opinion and always on the defensive. From the time when nearly all truly national sentiments were gradually disappearing here, down through the fierce trials of the war, the Union men of whom the Republicans of the south were mostly composed were by force of circumstances under a severe course of discipline. Nearly always enveloped in an atmosphere which caused them personal inconvenience, they were brought naturally to the contemplation of the benefits of the supremacy of the federal authority, and compelled by circumstances to reason internally upon the principles of the party which was defending the national power. The Constitution of the United States was to them the shield to which they turned for the inconveniences and oppressions of local authority. So they were educated by the severest experience to appreciate that cardinal principle of Republicanism, that it is the duty of the national government to protect its citizens within every foot of its territory by the exercise of its supreme authority. So they became Republicans from the necessity of their situation.

When there can again be a free ballot in these southern states there will be seen a practical demonstration of the condition to which we have alluded. That "solid south" of which there is now so much boasting would, if there were free and untrammelled voting, be more solid for the principles of that party which has made the glorious record of the last sixteen years, than it can now be under the pressure of brute force and terrorism.

Captain Rice informs the Palatka (Fla.) Herald that his last trip on the Oklawaha river was the most remarkable one for alligators that he had ever witnessed. The Captain counted one hundred and fifty on his downward trip, all good sized gators.

Prefatory Experiments of Southern Muscle.

We thought they would come to it at last, and they have.

"Conciliate" the muscular activities of a southern Democrat, and there creeps over him an oppressive sense of having been benumbed in his logical faculty. He may succumb thereto for a short period, say, an interval between political campaigns, simply because his party has given in its platform a peace bond for him, but ultimately quickened with the conviction that truth, hushed to earth will writhe again, he reasserts himself with a bounteous expenditure of gymnastic sinew. Assiduously as he has labored to enforce unreserved acceptance by the negroes of his political views, he now seems to contemplate their present inaction and reticence with such disfavor that were they positively unanimous in that acceptance we have no doubt he would feel impelled to convert them back into republicans by his most intemperate method. For unanimity infers peace, and peace inertia, rust, and mildew to a southern Democrat, in whom, as if in a tea-kettle, his patriotic blood boils even to the emission of the hottest verbal vapor. The lame acquiescence of a darkey, moreover, the southern Democrat interprets as being a mere plea for immunity from further assault and this involves an ignoble insult to be nobly avenged. It is a virtual declaration that the darkey feels he has been aggrieved, and would like a respite just to poltice his bruises. — To challenge the boasted tenderness of the Democrat's care for the darkey is heinous ingratitude, which should not, and usually does not, pass unrebuked.

For the past twelve-month, however, the southern Democrat has restively forbore to administer the rebuke with his usual vigor. Certain political complications have arisen which have rendered it politic to persist in the dainty fable that peace, disquieted by the hum of northern factories and the tumult of northern enterprise has flown southward and found a benignant Sabbath amid vales whose verdure is blurred only by tranquil cemeteries. The Lamars have found it expedient at frequent periods to remind their constituents that they (the constituents) were "conciliated," and it cannot be denied that, to their credit, they have received this caution with passive hands in their pockets, and pulling the pistols within those covers to more than an unaggressive half-cock. But such political indolence vexes and wears upon a noble soul. The President, who seems to have a peculiar opinion of the nobility of the southern soul, terribly wrongs it by protracting this indolence, through a tardy apportionment of the offices in that section to the Democracy. Gordon, Morgan and others are doing their utmost simultaneously to relieve that soul of its impatience, and the President of the last official donation at his command for the south. They properly understand that, with all the district attorneys, marshals, and revenue posts well secured, the old political activity of knuckle and trigger at the south may not only revive at once, but be maintained and justified with those bureaus. But to keep his muscles and temper in condition while awaiting that fondly expected hour, the southern Democrat feels that he does not impeach the table of southern harmony if he select any target other than a Republican nigger.

Some five weeks ago a swarm of Democrats in new Orleans pelted a meeting of other democrats with some aromatic cats and venerable eggs in order to put them in ill-odor and under the party yolk. And now we find fresh taken in Kentucky, near Versailles, of a disposition to counteract the stagnation incident to a general unanimity. On Saturday last Will Seays killed Simon Boswell with a club in a religious quarrel. Seays doubtless feels after such light moral calisthenics that his vigor is in good condition for the next political campaign. We are un-informed as to the precise issue between the disputants, and why the day before Sunday should have been selected for their devout interchange of views and for the solemn bestowal club wise of the crack of doom. It might appear that some theological question arose as to Cain and Abel, and that Seays, in his pious ardor, illustrated his views so forcibly with an orthodox club that the profane Boswell felt that no more could be said by him on that head. At all events, he failed in his placidity to reply. The Courier Journal remarks that the successful controversialist "has not been captured." This information was quite unnecessary; no one, not even the august Seays himself, feels any misgiving in that regard. To persecute a man for his religion were a shame only less in degree than to persecute a man for his politics was the proper season sets in. Mr. Seays has shown that the poppy of conciliation has not dulled his vigor, and that his ward or district will be patriotically warm at the next election. We shall severely scrutinize the recommendations for place to be made by Senator McCreery, of Kentucky, during the remainder of the session, he can point to Seay's polemic ability, and certify that he is a very warm and pious man, who can so agonize with an impatient brother as to make him suddenly and permanently unanimous.

It is understood that the house committee on electoral count has agreed to report in favor of a constitutional amendment fixing the tenure of the presidential office at six years, and declaring the President ineligible for re-election. The proposition to abolish the electoral college and to substitute for it a prerogative of the popular vote, failed in the committee, by a tie vote.

Manhood and Citizenship.

The gratifying information that "the prospects of the state are, however, highly encouraging, the law abiding people are manifesting a determination to assert their authority, to put down the implacables, to wrest power from the machine politicians, and to restore and maintain law and order. We doubt if there is a state in this Union where the colored man from now henceforward will have a better opportunity to develop his manhood and citizenship than in Mississippi."

May this prove true. We hope it may; but it will take time and occasion and circumstances to establish its truth. So long as the colored man submits to the behests of the southern Democracy—so long as he surrenders his political independence—so long as he hides the emblem of his citizenship in a napkin and lays it carefully away, or uses it only as the former slave holder dictates—so long as bloody assassins are pardoned before trial for fear of irritating the public mind by bringing them to justice—the colored man may perhaps be permitted to live peacefully and deliver himself from the degradation of his manhood and his citizenship as he best can in the state of Mississippi. So long as he accepts the situation of a nonentity, everything will be serene and lovely with the colored man's manhood and citizenship; but let him declare himself a man and citizen, who is determined to assert the principles of that party which secured him his freedom and his citizenship among his fellow men and at the ballot box, and the scene will be suddenly changed.—The murderers of Chisom and their sympathizers will suddenly confront him with weapons of death, and either kill him or drive him back into obscurity, a proscribed, ignored and crushed man. This is the estate that awaits him, when he attempts to "develop his manhood and citizenship," as white American citizens do throughout the United States.—National Republican.

EXIT DOORKEEPER POLK.

The Democratic House, after a most thorough search for official corruption and a victim to sacrifice upon their blazing altar, have at length been successful. They did not have to go outside of their own flock for a sacrificial lamb. Doorkeeper Polk was removed by a vote of 139 to 89, and the duties of his position were transferred temporarily to the Sergeant-at-Arms. Mr. Polk falls a victim to his confidence in his own friends.

His offense was simply that he listened to the counsels of Democrats in the House. He followed their advice, and when he found that their counsels were unwise and dishonest, they deserted him and left him, to be expelled from their ranks by the House. It is hard, but he is not the first man who has suffered for being caught in bad company. He is, no doubt, as good a man to-day as the average Democrat in the House.—National Republican.

Not satisfied with their success in turning white Republican republicans out of seats in congress to which they were elected, in order to obtain more certain party legislation, it is now understood that the Democracy are making an attempt to cut Rainey, Smalls and Cain, the only colored representatives in Congress. The case of Smalls is already in the hands of the committee on elections. At the commencement of the present session the Democratic majority in the House was thirteen, now, by sunsetting Republicans, it is twenty-one, and likely to be increased by the removal of others upon almost any pretext that would satisfy the conscience of a Bourbon where a negro is concerned.

The Khedive of Egypt is about to marry his cousin, Fatima Elidrida Khail Chamarzarin Hoodna Sherif Kosma, his other wives having tied themselves up in sacks and jumped into Nile. Egyptian wives are probably the most accommodating ladies in the world. They never reproach their husbands with sauce-pans and broomsticks and their harshest invective is "O lightning vraged son of the pine apple backed crocodile." When an Egyptian family man gets so tired and disgusted with his wife all he has to do is to wink at some other almond-eyed woman, takes the air water route to Mohammed's bosom. But alas! all women are not alike.

Mr. Hendricks is very much cast down on account of the recent decision of the New York court which fastens fraud upon Mr. Tilden. He thinks that fraud should be relentlessly exposed wherever it may be discovered. He still insists that reform is necessary. Nevertheless his heart is weary with it. By the way, the United States correspondent of the London Times writes to that paper that Mr. Hendricks will be the Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1880. Perhaps this view of the matter will console Mr. Hendricks.

In 1872 the legislature of Mississippi passed an act virtually exempting from taxation, for a period of ten years, the machinery and other material of manufacturing companies, the object being to encourage the establishment of factories in that state. Now that several companies have got nicely under way, and are beginning to make a little money, the Mississippi Chancellor, Peyton, finds out that the law is unconstitutional and void. People will get tired of trusting Mississippi after awhile.

The family of the Duke of Edinburgh must feel a pretty deep interest in the European situation. The Duke is a son of Queen Victoria, and his wife a daughter of the Czar, so that a discussion of the present trouble necessarily touches pretty closely on family affairs.

A Negro Man's Horde.

The Wilmington (Del.) Republican says: "On Saturday last a decrepit old colored man came into the Farmers' Bank of Delaware, and surprised the officers by handing them a rusty old bag in which was about $1,100 in specie, $600 being in gold dollars chiefly and the balance in silver. The bag, of course, was heavy, and although the colored man who brought it was known as a regular depositor at the bank of money in notes from time to time some surprise was manifested that he should have brought so much specie at one time. In answer to interrogations the colored man said he lived near the canal, between summit Ridge and Kirkwood, that he was now somewhere between seventy and eighty years old, and that he had worked on the canal ever since he was a young man, and that he had been saving up his money for a great number of years, he could not tell how many, and that the only place he had for his secretions was up an old chimney. Some of the silver gave evidence of the truth of what the old gentleman said, for it was black and had evidently lain a long time in one position without even having been turned over. He was asked why he had not sold the gold when it was bringing such a high price during the war, but he expressed surprise to think that it had ever been worth more than a dollar, and could not see why one dollar should be worth more than another. Under the instruction of Mr. Robinson, the cashier, the colored man took his $600 in gold up to Robinson & Co., where he sold it for 1 per cent. premium, which it was bringing, after which he made a full deposit at the Farmers' Bank."

Henry H. Erb, of Lancaster, Pa., recently closed up his store and his house and withdrew with his family from all intercourse with the world.—The neighbors were suspicious that something was wrong, and Erb's children could be heard crying bitterly, and Erb himself was not known to buy any food. Two officers effected an entrance into the premises by crawling through a back window. The house was found to be in a most wretched condition. All the furniture had been sold, there was no fire, and the three girls and two boys were crying with hunger and shivering in rags, while the mother crouched in a corner. Erb explained that a spirit had appeared to him and directed him and his family to fast for five days, at the end of which period a most wonderful event would occur in his house, at which the whole world would be present. He ordered his children not to sleep, not to offend the spirit, and the mother, who seemed to be entirely under the influence of her husband, also refused to eat anything. The children were clothed and made to take nourishment, and the woman was at length roused from her apathy by some vigorous talk.

A young Canadian eight year old takes the palm for cruelty. She is the child of Mr. Charles Frost of Berlin, Ont., and being left with the care of a sister of five, became angered because it interfered with her frolics with her companions. She determined to rid herself of the incumbrance, and began to abuse the child in the most fiendish manner. First she filled it with mud, then she dipped it into a quantity of water until it was nearly drowned. Then it was placed in the oven of the stove and burned and bruised, and next thrust under the stove. All these devices failing, she went for a saw to saw its head off, but she failed, and hit upon the plan of placing it in a bag and dragging it about the room. She was engaged in this pleasant amusement when the horror stricken mother returned. Of course, the injuries proved fatal.

It appears that the ordinary Turk and the common Russian like one another very well, though their governments have kept them fighting each other for over a year in bloody battles. The Russian army lying behind Constantinople is constantly visited by multitudes of Turks from the city, who at once put themselves on the most friendly terms with their conquerors; and the numerous Russian soldiers who have been permitted to enjoy a holiday in Constantinople report that not only are the manifestations of ill will toward them but that the Mohammedans fraternize with them, and are glad to furnish them supplies. The Czar and the Sultan have forced their subjects to the work of mutual slaughter, though the Czar and the Sultan have preserved their own personal persons from the bayonet and the bullet.

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many Physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Coughs, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Doan's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 doses were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists in America.

The Galveston News holds the opinion that the meeting of the Texas Democratic state convention in July may prove disastrous to the party, and declares "that the political fever, the local jealousies, the sectional demands and the ambitious aspirations of candidates will make the convention of 1,300 delegates a body whose possibilities for mischief will be very great." May an all-wise Providence so direct affairs as to put the Texas Bourbons under the bayonet, and may they make a regular military out fight of it.

OLD, TRIED, AND TRUE.

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of that great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN

Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory such surprising cures for the maladies of her children. Its base has been existing for 30 years, until now it enters the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a matchless remedy for all external ailments of man and beast. To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable. A single bottle often saves a human life or rescues the usefulness of an excellent horse, cow, or sheep.

It cures frost-bite, head-ache, hollow legs, sprains, swellings, shoulder-ache, muscle, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such drawback to stock breeding and health life.

It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, swellings, sores, sprains, founder, wind-gall, chancres, etc., etc., and for numerous other ailments of horses, cattle, and swine, and affords immediate relief by its use. Truly a valuable remedy.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it is sold in the shape of a phylactery, such as horse, mule, cow, etc., and for numerous other ailments of horses, cattle, and swine, and affords immediate relief by its use. Truly a valuable remedy.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,
FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 12, 1878.

When everything else has failed to give relief in persistent cases of Fever and Ague, Dr. Hart's Fever and Ague Specific has effected a speedy and permanent cure.

PALATABLE MEDICINES.—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a honeyed drop of relief; his Cathartic Pills glide unobtrusively over the palate, and his Sarsaparilla is a nectar that imparts vigor to life, restores the health and expels disease.—Waterford (Pa.) Advertiser.

Dr. Richard Holland, of Butler Co., Mo., writes: "I have been practicing medicine over twenty years, and I must say I have never used anything in my practice equal to Dr. Hart's Fever and Ague specific. I fully endorse it, and say to the public, that as a 'Specific' for Fever and Ague it has no equal."

An Astonishing Fact.

A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence. If enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this! If you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flowers. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western continent.
